

Progetto finale di ripasso – Livello 2 – Spring 2015

Create a project divided in three parts:

1. Da piccolo... (write about your life when you were a little kid, making sure to include how you and your family used to celebrate holidays, what food you used to eat, what usually happened when you went out to eat; events, relationships and trips of your childhood)
2. Adesso (write about your life now, the things you do in your family or with your friends, and how that has changed from your childhood)
3. Da grande (in the last part of the project tell about your dreams for the future, for your personal and professional life)

Your project can be very artistic, but you should focus more on using linguistic structures and vocabulary studied in chapters 9-11.

Plagiarism will not be tolerated and you will receive a zero if you use an online translator (why would you anyway? You can use your book, Wordreference, and you can also work at your project during lunch in my classroom and receive help for it!).

You must have a short essay of about 100 words for each part of the project.

Your project must be handwritten.

Recycled materials to display your work will be accepted and are actually recommended. (Save the planet, get a better grade!!)

Write simple sentences, but make sure your final product is not only correct, but also entertaining (funny, sad, as you prefer, just make sure it really shows yourself).

Do not worry about telling your real story! You can also make up as many events as you prefer!

Final deadline: May 15th
